Left Bracket winner plays Right Bracket winner for the Championship.
 If both Bracket teams have one loss, then a single game is played for the Championship.
 If both Bracket teams have no losses, then a two out of three series is played for the Championship.
 If one team has one loss and one has no losses then the team with one loss must win twice to be the champion.
The team with no losses will be home team for both games.

Notes on Tournament Brackets:

Game 12 may need a double-header to determine who continues in the tournament. If the team from the loser's bracket wins Game 12, then another game (Game 12A) will immediately follow between the same two teams. The winner of that game continues in the tournament with one loss.

The team from the winner's bracket will be the home team for both games.

Should the team from the winner's bracket win Game 12, then Game 14 may need a double-header to determine who wins the tournament. If the team from the loser's bracket wins Game 14 game (Game 14A) will immediately follow between the same two teams. The winner of that game wins the tournament.

The team from the winner's bracket will be the home team for both games.
